

fortified by such authority and confirmed by the experience of the Government for half a century? In all my conference with Senator, his letter referred me to it, and I have been told that the bill would do no good for it, than that the bill would destroy the "Treaty of 1812," but it remains, was as bad, if not worse, than the disease, and the operation seemed to me almost as unwise as to "cut off the head for the toothache."

I have now explained to you the origin, and reminded you of the character of McKay's Bill of 1844. I have indicated to you the nature of those party, not to say those moral obligations, which were contracted antecedent to the elections of '44; and I have told you how they were imposed upon me, as one of your Senators, in my attempts to sustain the Democratic party by harmonizing the country generally upon a distinguishing conflict of local interests. I have also shown you how the Tariff bill proposed at this session was altogether a different one, and every way objectionable in its details, and in its principles, and in the time of its operation, and I might have added, in the manner it was urged upon the Senate, and how utterly impossible it was with me, on account of all these things, to vote for the bill without amendment, even along with other Democratic Senators, with our mouths gagged, our judgments unconvinced, and our deliberations foreclosed by a question which I always thought to be a National one, above the domain of any political party with us.

Mr. Haywood proposed to vindicate at length his course, and to interrogate a party man, citing largely from documents and instructions, but this hardly so much interests us. Our concern is with the Tariff of 1846, and his reasons for resigning rather than for it. Are they not conclusive?

THE MEXICAN WAR.

Correspondence of the New Orleans Boilermakers.

MATAMOROS, Aug. 6, 1846.

General Taylor left here, two days since, for Camargo, by the river, to await the assembly of the army at that point, for the march to Monterrey. It is thought he will be able to begin the march by the 1st to 10th September. His field force will be 2,500; and if the 2d Infantry arrive in time, say 3,000 regular troops, with about 7,300 volunteers, as follows: three Texas regiments, two Ohio, one Georgia, two Kentucky, one Tennessee, one Alabama, one Mississippi regiments, and the Baltimore Battalion—in all, say 10,000 men. The two Indiana regiments will probably be distributed between this city and the mouth of the river, under the command of Brigadier General Lane. One of the Texas mounted regiments, under Col. Hays, marches by a wide circuit through San Fernando, Linares, &c., to join the main body at Camargo, or on the march to Monterrey. They will probably report that they can raise 15,000 in ten days. Fortifications were building; but the probability is that no resistance will be made.

AUGUST 10.—DOCT. SPEAR'S INDIAN MEDICINES,

PREPARED BY THE OLD INDIAN DOCTOR, SO MUCH CELEBRATED FOR HIS REMARKABLE CURES.

WHEREVER these Medicines are employed, every objection is at once removed, for they have gained the most perfect confidence among the Indians, who are the best judges of the value of the popular remedies in the United States, and who are the most expert in the use of these Medicines. In the first place, they have not come up to a key or pectoral, but to the heart itself. They are the ancient and genuine remedies of the Indians of N. America, and have been used for ages past, and are still in great request. They are not a single spot, blemish, or blotch left upon the skin, and have no side effects.

They are the best and most efficacious medicine for the cure of all diseases, and especially for the cure of all diseases of the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, &c., &c.
